

With the current power failure of 8/14/03, it is clear that the power companies cannot be trusted to follow proper guidelines when it comes to the technology of BPL. The HF bands will be filled with noise, making communication impossible. Our last line of long range emergency communication will be destroyed. How can we trust an industry that has betrayed us by losing power in such a negligent manner. BPL will be a radio disaster.